PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a highly motivated and detail-oriented criminology and criminal justice student with a growing interest in risk management and regulatory compliance. I have a strong passion for upholding ethical standards, ensuring accountability, and contributing to systems that protect institutional integrity. With a keen analytical mindset and a proactive approach to learning, I am committed to understanding the complexities of compliance frameworks and organizational risk. As I build foundational skills in tech, I am increasingly aware of the evolving intersection between compliance and digital systems, an area I'm eager to explore further. I thrive in structured environments and value clear processes, precision and consistency, key traits I'm continuously developing as I prepare to enter the professional world.
